WORLD COMMUNION SUNDAY

Today we join with Christians the world over in coming to a communion table that transcends all national, geographic, ethnic and racial barriers. It is a table that is open to all people who seek a closer relationship with God in Jesus Christ. In the United Methodist Church all people are welcome to receive communion. For some people this might be the first step in a journey toward hope, grace and discipleship. Therefore, you do not need to be a member of this or any other church to be welcome today. The variety of breads offered today represent the diverse cultures from around the world, symbolic of our unity in Christ. Today every church around the world is offering the same Sacrament, and we remember our sisters and brothers in every place. Our special offering today will nurture students as leaders by providing scholarships for minority students and international students. Thank you for your support and participation in World Communion Sunday.
